MERINO & POLL MERINO RAMS

75

Wayville Showgrounds, Adelaide
Friday 6th September 2019 at 11am

From our travels around the country we see the catalogue offering sires of the future showing plenty of growth, bone and carcass shape. More so this year is the depth of 'wool quality'. It's a high calibre selection of top shelf sires and a robust band of top-end ram-breeding sheep.

Collinsville is well situated to continue being a substantial Influencing PARENT stud. Investments in land and infrastructure and a burning passion ensure their future. There is no better example of this than the offering of Lot 1. One of the ABSOLUTE top sheep to be offered 'anywhere' this year.

All of this year's Collinsville team are sires they could and probably should be keeping. This Merino ram is beautifully balanced - one of the most complete sheep to have ever been offered in Adelaide! A big mobile fellow, he was judged Grand Champion March shorn in Hay.

A pure soft face, he's good on his legs and carries white waxy 'go anywhere' supreme stud wool. He's offers a unique opportunity to secure 'genuine' standard-lifting genetics. 122kg early August.

NOTE: Collinsville offer all rams with buyers having 100% possession and full marketing rights!

Tag: 180615
Sire: Imperial 135111
Age: May 2018 drop (natural mating)
22.0 μ 2.9 SD 13.2 CV 99.6 CF

We appreciate big upstanding poll rams with great carcase traits and crimped ram-breeding wool. This Imperial is a sensational offering - of true 'superstar' stud sire standing! An upstanding athletic animal with strong bone, wide chest, pure poll, soft clean muzzle and great width of hip. He held his lambs teeth right into heavy bodyweights.

Adding to his powerful structure is his carriage of stud 'high-end' bold crimping ram-breeding wool - a great blend of staple length and lock.

We can't measure gut feel, but we sense that 615 could strongly influence the high-end of the poll merino breed for years to come. 123kg early August.

Who stands up and makes a statement here???

Who will stand up here?

There will be a hush when we stand over the lead Glenlea Park ram. He was a show-stopper in Bendigo and we knew from our pre-sale farm visits that we are on a 'good' one here.

Glenlea Park have enjoyed top prices for stud rams for more than a decade - but this team has further raised the bar. And this ram has so much to offer. Showing excellent growth for age - he was a robust 117kgs in Bendigo. A long, deep sire that stands square behind. He upstands and commands attention. He stretches right out and is simply a super impressive animal to view. Excellent bone. Then comes the wool. It's hard to imagine how absolute top-magnitude stud wool can be any better! For definition, colour and handle - this is a sweet and as gutsy as it comes. Lamb's wool cut 6.4kg - 113%GFW

So, who will stand up when we scan the crowd looking for a winner!!!

Old Ashrose is right on the money for producing ADVANCING top-quality genetics. They have retained bone, growth and barrel - but their wool quality has charged up the ladder.

Recently heard a comment that lambs bred in station country by Old Ashrose rams are the better doers - early growth lambs with constitution - that says a lot.

This Will son has width of body and great spring of rib - he is well balanced sire with a big rump. Like his father he is deep jawed. An uncomplicated carcass type - he is a converter - an all-round meat and wool producer. His wool sparkles - bulky fibre with sheen, crimp and bold character.

The Michael family have breed top sheep for a long time - the Nyowie stud founded in 1955 - and this year's team has bettered Adelaide line ups of recent years. As we have seen - when a Nyowee clicks - there can be a solid decade of influence coming from an individual sire.

As the spring months come into play the Nyowie rams lift a gear and often one will explode out of the blocks to be an outright champion.

Maybe that be will be the lead ram J263 - A MASSIVE 'thumping' poll sire - 124kgs in July. With a good topline and great length of body, he stand over a lot of ground. A big ram with an appealing visual medium quality wool. We think we need to keep growth in the breed and this ram has plenty of that!

Established in 1925, Rices Creek is owned and managed by the Vandeleur family from properties at Saddleworth and Tintinara. The stud aims to consistently breed big, early maturing plain-bodied sheep with productive skins and white wools.

Last year we offered an Imperial 20 son that made $20,000. We again offer another 'ripper' from that sire. An AI son that weighed 122kgs & 45emd 7.5bfat in July.

He is a 'meaty' square-bodied nicely-balanced sire with a healthy running front. He is noticeably wide all the way through his body. A productive loose, pliable-skinned ram oozing brilliant free-growing, top-shelf lustrous deeply-crimped bold wool. At the Tintinara sale, the Imperial genetics were mostly 40 to 46.5 EMD with 8-9BFAT - good shaped rams with doing ability. Prices ranged from $1000 to $5500.

This is a 'very good sheep' from genetics with proven performance.

A Star lot in Adelaide 2019.

Orrie Cowie is well-placed to offer TOP-GRADE sires. With 'big' sheep in their sire battery we are seeing the long-time Orrie Cowie super-nourished white-wools bounding through on well-grown carcass animals. 2019 has already yielded success for John and Heather by winning at Canberra and Hay - selling rams privately for $30,000 and $25,000 - a very good poll ram in Bendigo for $14,500 and topping their Hamilton horn draft at $8,000.

STAR LOT: With extra 'stretch' - length in the middle - this heavy-bodied poll - 130kgs in July - stands on good feet, has a good topline and fills meat and muscle right down into his twist. With an appealing head cover and running front he carries 'naturally' nourished 'sirey' bold-crimping wool. An excellent blend of bodyweight and shape, wool-cutting ability and brilliant ram-breeding wool quality.
