

Majardah's stud master Dale Price notches up 50 years of breeding seed stock. The stud was established in 1972 in partnership with his brother Ross and continued until the early 80's when Dale and his wife Ruth took on the full ownership of the stud, changing the name to 'Majardah Poll Dorsets'. Dale's son Adam then introduced White Suffolk's in the early 2000's.

In the early years sheep were shown at all the local shows throughout the South East of South Australia and across Western Victoria. Showing sheep is subjective to one's opinion. That is why with the introduction of objective measurement by Sheep Genetics Australia and specifically LambPlan Dale saw a great opportunity to benchmark his sheep against others throughout Australia.

The added benefit of this was reduced biosecurity risks with the sheep not having to leave the property.

Today Dale is ably assisted by Adam and his family in running the studs. Keen to ensure quality performance rams are available to clients, the family are active participants in Meat Elite Australia's Young Sire Progeny testing program. Two Majardah rams are in this year's team of 10 rams. The stud is also participating in the Meat Elite Australia 'MEAT Taste 22' project. Commercial merino ewes were artificially inseminated with semen from Meat Elite Australia flocks and the progeny will be followed through and measured for Meat Eating Quality utilizing the DEXA imagery or probe technology. The stud also has rams being used in the Information Nucleus flocks providing excellent linkage for greater accuracy of data.
