MARGRA

AUSTRALIA'S FINEST LAMB

TWO BROTHERS, ONE VISION

Inspired by native haired sheep seen on their travels to South America, the Gilmore Brothers set out to breed a fully haired meat sheep intended for Australian conditions.

The development of this lamb became the main focus of the brothers and Graham's two sons, James and Ross. Through years of careful breeding using the latest technology and techniques, they succeeded in their venture, developing a unique breed of lamb certified as the Australian White.

But the journey did not end there. In breeding the Australian White, they noticed that certain lines had exceptional eating quality. Working with Professor Aduli Malau-Aduli of James Cook University, the Gilmores were able to further cultivate this trait. Today, only the finest Tattykeel Australian White Sheep genetics are selected for Margra Lamb.

While Martin did not live to see the fruition of their project, he was an integral part of the development of Margra Lamb. It is now a living testament to their work and the lifetime achievement of the Gilmore family.

The shared vision of Martin and Graham lives on in the next generation of Gilmores, James and Ross, who, alongside their father, continue to breed Margra Lamb in Oberon NSW. The family's ongoing commitment to excellence ensures a consistent and reliable supply of Margra Lamb well into the future.

This year we are excited to have the Executive Chef of Longshore Restaurant - Jarrod Walsh, preparing some of his amazing Margra dishes for you to enjoy on the day. Jarrod and his talented team have Margra on the Menu at Longshore Restaurant based in the Old Clare Hotel, Chippendale. You can book on-line at longshore.com.au

Spinal Cord Injuries Australia fundraiser

Lot 140 - Tattykeel "Independence"

The Team at Tattykeel were proud to donate the last year's sale proceeds of Tattykeel "Resilience" to Spinal Cord Injuries Australia (SCIA). The funds raised went directly to their "Peer & Family Support Program" here in Central West NSW, to employ Sarah-Jane Stazak, a part-time Peer Support Coordinator.

Each year there are around 320 newly injured spinal cord patients entering our spinal rehabilitation units, and over 15,000 people living with a spinal cord injury in Australia.

Spinal Cord Injuries Australia's Peer and Family Support Program is the only service of its kind where people with lived experience are able to share their stories and experiences with those with new or existing spinal cord injuries and their families. This support can be provided whilst they are in trauma in the spinal unit, when they transition back to home, and at the critical times throughout their life when they need to tap into people with lived experience.

The Peer and Family Support team provide the hope and positive mindset that is so important for recovery, and through personal examples they can demonstrate how it is possible to get through the trauma of spinal cord injuries, recover, and still live your best life.

We would like to thank the winning bidders – the Carter and Baker families from Red Tank Stud, and all of the under bidders at last year's sale for their wonderful support which resulted in a donation of $45,000.

This year we are again supporting this wonderful initiative of S.C.I.A and the funds raised from the sale of Tattykeel "Independence" will help to retain the service of a Peer Support Coordinator in Central West NSW.

Tattykeel Certified Commercial Ewes and the "Red Tag"

The Tattykeel Certified program, helps those breeders who have supported the stud to market their commercial ewes, as Premium Australian Whites.

The Tattykeel red tags are reserved for progeny from purebred Australian White ewes, joined with Tattykeel rams.

Not every sheep sired by Tattykeel rams is red tagged - it is only the best of the best. It is proof of an elite Tattykeel type sheep.

"The breed of the Future"

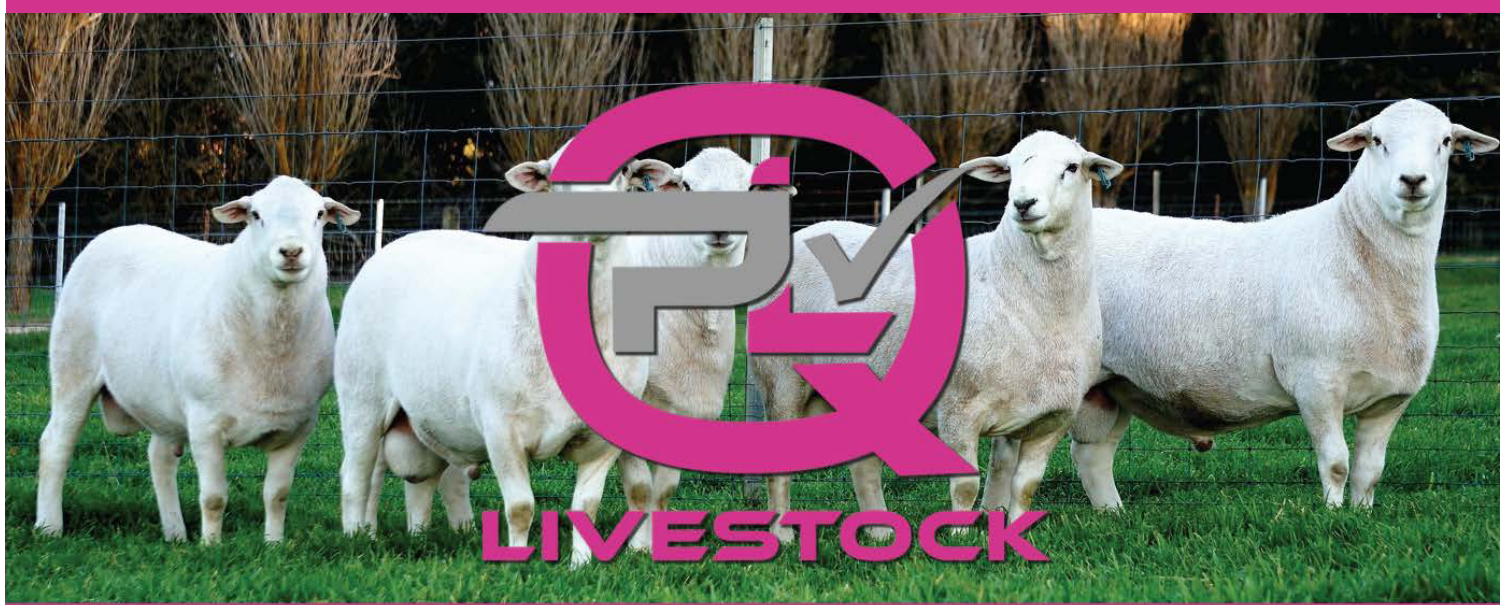

Transition from Wool to Hair ✓

With protein markets hitting the lowest we've seen in some years, the demand for the Australian White Breed hasn't softened. With the reduced market price, it has only made producers realise that they must become more efficient, productive and profitable, making those with a traditional wool sheep operation really reconsider their direction of operations. We're seeing a significant transition from wool to hair, as the variable wool associated input costs are ultimately killing producers' bottom lines.

As we plan and navigate through these more challenging times, it's important to maintain an emphasis on quality, efficiency, low inputs and production, which will in-turn create a more sustainable and profitable operation. Australian White producers should currently feel confident and remain focused beyond these times, backed by branded lamb markets and a stable surplus ewe market. There hasn't been a better time to transition from Wool to Hair!
