

Bring online buyers to your physical sale

AuctionsPlus offers an online presence at your next physical sale. Use AuctionsPlus to ensure your sale gets maximum exposure and ultimate competition. By using the 'interface' sale option you can allow online buyers to compete with those physically at your sale. Buyers access the online catalogue, the auction and can bid in real time. Users can even listen-in to the sale if you want to broadcast it.

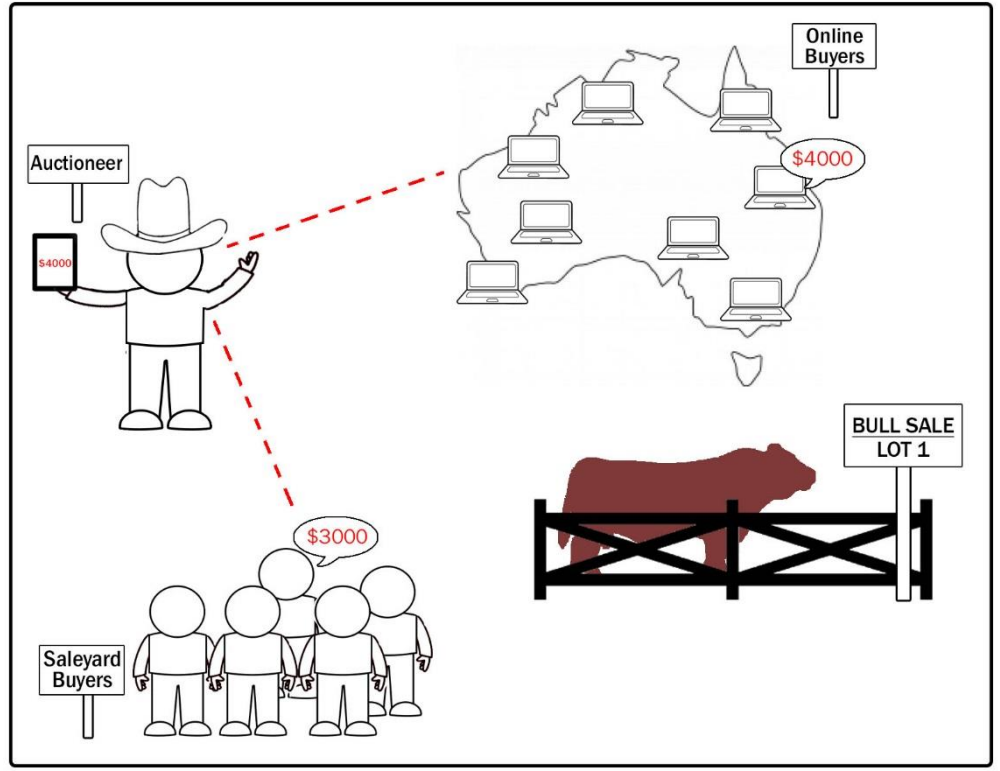

Our dedicated AuctionsPlus team will work beside you to market your sale to over 45,000 registered users, build and distribute your catalogue and help out with advertising on our website.

In the current market where demand outweighs supply, make sure you maximise the potential of your stock and sell to a national audience.

- 30 years experience - you can expect the best
- National Exposure
- Truly competitive market
- 45,000 registered users
- On-property or online
- Strategic marketing plans
- Live audio streaming
- Professional marketing team

"AuctionsPlus gives convenience to our clients. For a sale that had bidders operating from 5 states, we cut out their travelling costs...They can then operate from the convenience of their farm office on sale day. In fact we have had bidders operating from a sale in South Australia and from a wedding in Sydney. It is all about convenience for the client"
